

Fund Objective

The Herald Worldwide Technology Fund (HWTF) is an Open Ended Investment Company (OEIC) that seeks to achieve capital growth, in excess of the average, by investing in quoted companies in the technology, communications and multi-media sectors. As its name suggests, the Fund invests in companies worldwide, but especially the UK and North America.

Fund Manager Comment

Performance in the month:

Performance this month was again driven by the North American element of the portfolio returning 11.2%. Apple led the way in $, but AMD appreciated the most in % terms (39%). Smaller positions in Hortonworks, Yelp, Semtech, Ciena and Atlassian all appreciated 25-30% in £ terms. This reflects a euphoric reaction to a solid results season. All the other regions were in positive territory but returns were insignificant by US standards. Avast, a UK listed security company rose 11.5%. Whilst results have been good, trade tensions with China and potential Government taxes or controls in the internet sector provide risks.

Important Information

The objective of the Fund is to achieve capital growth by investing in the securities of issuers in the technology, communications and multi-media sectors which the Investment Manager believes offer potential capital growth. This report has been issued on behalf of Herald Worldwide Technology Fund, and has been approved by Herald Investment Management Limited, its investment manager. Herald Investment Management Limited is authorised and regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority. Market and currency movements may cause the value of shares, and the income from them, to fall as well as rise, and you may get back less than you invested when you decide to sell your shares. Certain statements in this report constitute 'forward-looking' statements. Such statements, including the intended actions and performance objectives of the Fund, involve unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors which may cause actual results, performance or achievements of the fund to differ materially from those implied by such forward-looking statements.
